

KUNDALINI RESEARCH INSTITUTE

Translations and Foreign Publications

Printing Quality Standards GENERAL GUIDELINES

§ All KRI book cover should be printed in colors

§ The Aquarian Teacher Textbook and Manual is preferable to be in hardcover. In cases and countries where this makes the cost go higher softcover should be fine. Film lamination should be applied

§ Color/BW issue should follow the standard set by the original printing. Some of our books feature full-color layouts and others black & white.

§ For the reproduction of any of the bound books, a professional printer should be used. For manuals with a spiral binding (like Harijot Kaur's manuals), a print shop should be fine.

§ Additions to original files are not allowed. Any special condition should be requested by written form and will be judged case by case.

§ Modifications on the original layout should be approved before signing the FPA and should be included on the contract as an addendum.

§ Request of modification on the original binding should also be made in written form and sent per email. Some consideration of adopting spiral binding should be made, such as:

- In most countries, bookstores will not sell books in metal coil bind;
- In KRI experience, a “lay flat” binding works almost as well;
- In some countries, the metal coil binding is more expensive than the other forms of binding. So, to submit a request on modification, please attach considerations over the points above.

§ Partners should include credits of translation on the opening pages, together with the other publication's credits.

§ Partner's logo is allowed to be added on the back cover. However, no partner's logo is allowed in the translated version of The Aquarian Teacher (L1-At) and other TT courses materials such, as Level 2 and Level 3.

§ For Further detailed information, see below KRI original titles Printing Quality Standards.